

How to Manage your Enemies at Work with Dr. Larry Stybel

Dr. Larry Stybel is a licensed doctoral level psychologist, co-founder of two businesses, author, and Entrepreneur-in-Residence at a private equity firm.

Dr. Stybel will discuss the Stybel Peabody Associates, Inc. framework for Managing Your Enemies at Work.

**

"M*A*S*H*" was a popular movie and television comedy in the 1980s. Dr. Stybel argues that the corporate culture tension within this unit parallels corporate culture tension in in corporate America in 2021.

He will propose that M*A*S*H's leader Colonel Sherman T. Potter is a useful role model for corporate leadership in 2021. He knows how to turn Enemies into Adversaries/Allies.

Learning Goals:

1. How Colonel Potter manages negative emotions from being contagious.
2. How Colonel Potter converts an adversary into an adversary.
3. How to differentiate between adversaries and enemies and why it is critically important your team be skilled at making the distinction:

Wednesday, August 4

6:00 pm-7:00pm ET

Virtual event

Registration is required for this complimentary event to ensure that you are provided with the log-in credentials three hours prior to our Zoom meeting.

Friends of Dr. Stybel who would like to attend this Harvard Club of Boston program as his guest can email him and he will set up attendance for you at no charge to you.

lstybel@stybelpeabody.com

